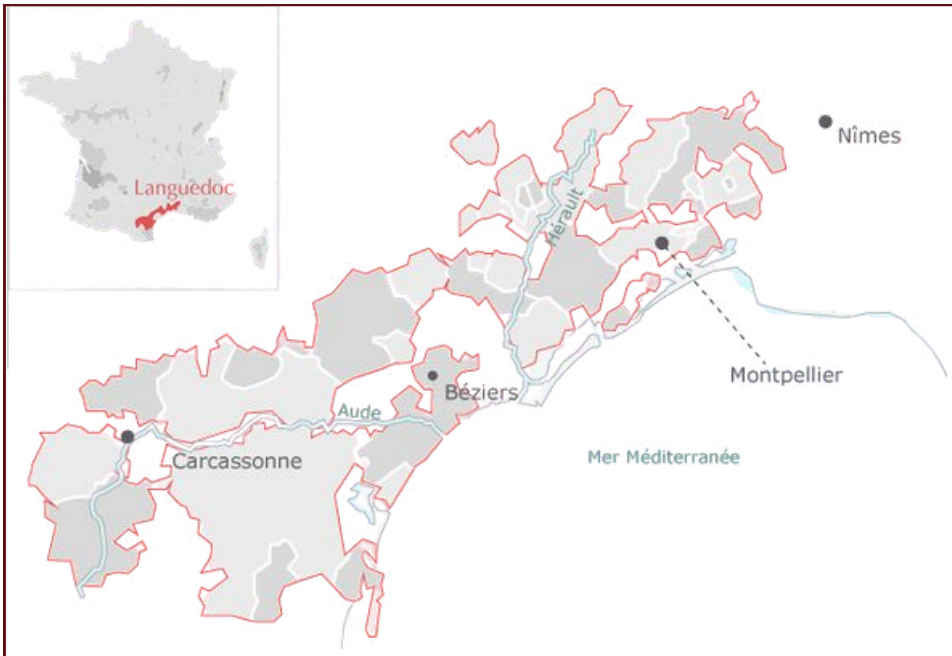
WINE LIST



Languedoc-Roussillon

Languedoc-Roussillon is the largest wine-producing region in the world, responsible for more than one-third of France's total production. With a winemaking tradition dating back as far as 6000 BC, it is also one of the country's oldest wine regions.

Heritage and Anecdotes

During the World Wars, the French army received its daily wine rations from this region, underlining both the scale and significance of its vineyards. By the 14th century, wines from Languedoc-Roussillon were even prescribed by physicians and served in hospitals, valued for their restorative qualities

Terroir and Winemaking

This unique landscape, shaped by the Mediterranean and softened by its aquatic environment, creates balmy conditions that bring balance and freshness to the wines.
